Signed up to Technorati today

May 24, 2007 / Gavin Jackson

Hmm, looks kind of interesting - allows me to consolidate all of my online accounts into one uber account. Seems to keep track of tags ok. It really seems to be concerned with how many people link to my blog - so it doesn't think I'm very popular at the moment.

We can fix that though, simply create a technorati account, and add me as a favourite (using the button on the right)!
